

Adventurers! Pasadena! Well, not-yet-Pasadena because the story begins on my red chair, occupied by RB-the-cat...

...who was abandoned (by me) as I departed for the local Mex-joint...

...to which I arrived via passing spectacular cloudy-skies...

...and... Eventually made it to Montrose. Why Montrose?

Because I'm working in L.A. this week and staying at a B&B in Montrose :-)

Recent mega-rain has caused severe mudslide damage...

...while nearby mansions were un-touched...

...and other homes left "right on the edge". Who is the Mystery Girl?

Ah-ha! Arriving Colorado Blvd...

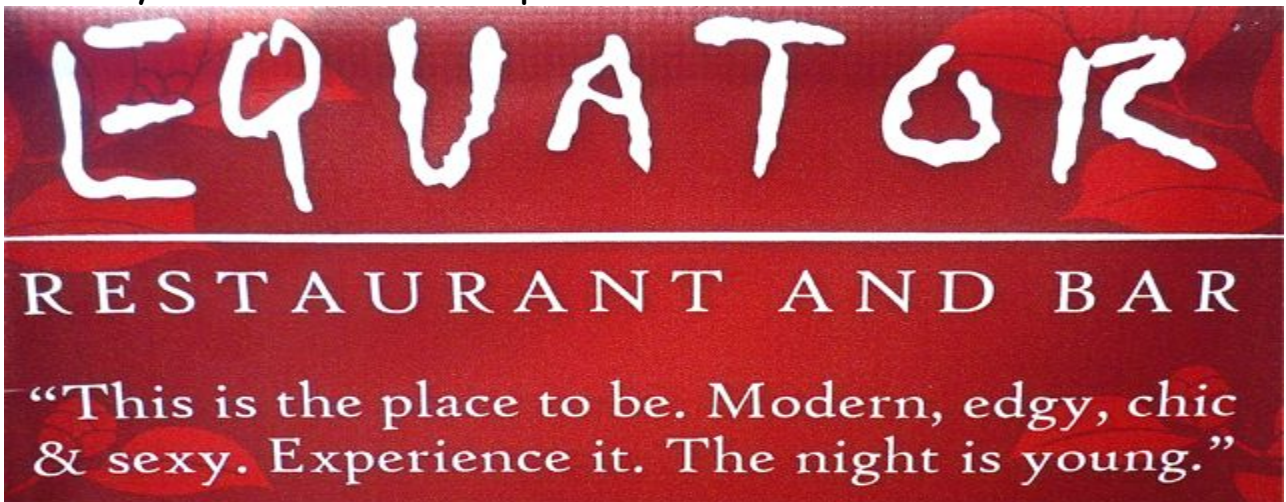

...where neat places/restaurants abound...

Below: WooHoo! Only in Pasadena...

...a 1929 restoration-in-progress. See any muffler? Me neither!
Equator really looked like a cool place...

...with a great menu. The "menu-helper" feature was cool...

Whoa! For a desert-rat (me)... Spectacular inside...

...super-comfy-seating... Who is Mystery Girl? (keeps popping up)

Wow! "Food-tasters" were provided... Never had that service before!

Impeccable place-setting...

Yum-Mee...

Fabulous bar!

Below: I must say Potty-Land made a superb pic...

Moving right along... The pan-handlers "max-creative"...

Pasadena provides "sidewalk stimulation" for the ladies...

Thanks for reading along!

Montrose/Pasadena a fascinating visit-place...

Paul P. pencipa@yahoo.com